

VOL. XXXVIII

STEVENS POINT, WIS., SEPT. 15, 1915.

NO. 10

REAR ADMIRAL GRANT

Native Stevens Pointer, In Charge of Submarine Service, Gets Distinguished Title.

Captain Albert W. Grant, a native of Stevens Point and without question the most discussed man in American naval circles during the past few months, is raised to the rank of rear admiral, according to an announcement made at Washington last Wednesday, September 8.

Grant's career in the navy has been of such a noteworthy character that his elevation was generally anticipated by his friends and admirers, especially since he was assigned to the task, a few months ago, of reorganizing the submarine arm of the navy. To Stevens Point friends, many of whom were also friends of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. B. Grant, prominent pioneer residents of this city, his promotion comes as a fulfillment of hopes long held.

A Washington newspaper correspondent reports the promotion of Captain Grant as follows:

"With the retirement, under the age limit regulation, of Rear Admiral Reynolds, Captain Albert Weston Grant, in charge of the U. S. submarine service, is raised to the rank of Rear Admiral. The name of Grant has played an important part in American army affairs, and now it is expected to illuminate the American navy. To the new Grant has been allotted the difficult task of perfecting the great fleet of submarines which will serve as a vital wing of the protective measures for the long coasts of the United States and for its distant possessions and protectorates.

"It is doubtful whether an American officer ever tackled a more difficult problem. The first stroke has already been registered, in the survey of submarines already in use, and the determining of their faults. With the navy under fire from politicians, as well as from earnest advocates of better defense, and the submarine the newest wing of naval warfare, Secretary Daniels chose Capt. Grant as the man best fitted to handle the pressing difficulty.

"It is the avowed policy of Secretary Daniels to develop the greatest submarine flotilla service in the world. He was led to this view, first, by the lessons of the European war, which have demonstrated the value of the submarine as an element of naval defense, and, second, because of the lesser cost of building and maintaining these fast little undersea boats.

"There has been no swivel-chair administration of the submarines by Captain Grant, and as Rear Admiral it is expected that he will continue the activity which has already brought remarkable results. He is utilizing the Prairie as his flotilla flagship, and will continue in actual sea command of the Atlantic submarine fleet. He has in addition the general supervision of all the submarines of the navy, whether in the Atlantic or Pacific, or at Panama, Honolulu or Manila, so that all may be brought to the highest state of efficiency. Improvements, changes in type and equipment, and the many other important questions involved in the construction of the new boats will also figure in the work of the submarine commander.

"Credit for the new American submarine plan is given to Rear Admiral William S. Benson, the new chief of naval operations. Commander Yates Sterling is assistant to Rear Admiral Grant in the big undertaking. Commander Sterling was formerly commander of the Atlantic submarine flotilla and has made a close study of the submarine and its possibilities.

"The new Rear Admiral was appointed to the naval academy from Stevens Point, Wisconsin. He served afloat and ashore with high distinction, and in 1908 was made chief of staff of the Atlantic fleet. He was later commandant of the League Island Navy Yard at Philadelphia, and then served as commander of the Atlantic reserve fleet. In July, 1913, he was assigned to duty in connection with the building of the dreadnought Texas, and commanded that ship until he was assigned to his present important duties.

"The American submarine has come in for more abuse than any other arm of the service. Many critics declare that the American submarines are worthless. Capt. Grant, when he undertook his duties, investigated things generally. In his first report, he stated that more than eighty per cent of the difficulties experienced with the submarine were due to the inexperience of the officers in charge of the boats. He found that the boats were well built and were turned over to the government in perfect condition, but that those in charge were not so familiar with their workings as they should have been, and, consequently, accidents have happened which have been blamed on the boats themselves.

"The campaign of training naval men in submarine warfare is therefore the first result of the submarine commander's work. This will mean high training for a vast number of skilled mechanics. Here the schooling which Uncle Sam's navy has given its men will come into great advantage, and before each squadron of submarines is launched in future, trained men will be ready to man the undersea boats."

TO VISIT GREAT WEST.

M. H. Ward, beater engineer in the paper mill at Mosinee, visited his family in this city last Sunday and Monday. Mr. Ward is planning on a western trip of a month's duration and expects to leave about September 22d. He will visit relatives in Milwaukee and then go to Chicago, Omaha and Salt Lake City. At the latter place he will be the guest of a cousin who was his companion in boyhood but whom he has not seen for forty-six years. A visit to the exhibitions at San Diego and San Francisco is also being considered.

RETURNS TO MINNEAPOLIS.

Peter Trierweiler, Sr., who had been visiting in the city and vicinity with numerous relatives and friends for the past three months, left for Stanley the first of the week, where his son, Nicholas Trierweiler, resides. After visiting at the home of the latter, he will return to Minneapolis, where he makes his home, two of his daughters living in that city. It is thirteen years since Mr. Trierweiler went to Minneapolis to reside, and he has made an annual visit to Portage county ever since. A son, Peter Trierweiler, Jr., lives in the city, and a daughter, Mrs. Lawrence Higgins, lives in Stockton.

ADJUST FIRE LOSS.

John Porter, president, and M. O'Keefe, vice president of the Stockton Insurance Co., spent part of Tuesday at Junction City, going there to adjust a loss sustained by Wm. Roebuck, whose home is located between that village and Milladore. One of Mr. Roebuck's barns was struck by lightning last Sunday morning and this building and another barn located nearby burned to the ground. The contents of both buildings were destroyed, including some forty tons of hay and about 800 bushels of grain, the loss being fully $2,000. His insurance in the Stockton company amounted to $864, which sum was allowed him.

OLD INJURY IS FATAL

Robert William Currier Dies at Home of Mother in McDill—Funeral Held Last Sunday.

Robert William Currier, who had been critically ill for several months at the home of his mother, Mrs. Diana Currier, at McDill, died last Friday evening at 8:15 o'clock.

For twenty-five years "Bill," as he was best known to his friends throughout this vicinity, had been disabled, due to an accident that occurred while he was employed in the woods near Mosinee. He was caught beneath a load of logs when a binder chain gave way and one leg was badly crushed. Although the best of care available at that time was given him, the limb was never restored to its former state of usefulness and, as a result, an infection of the bone, complications developed that caused death.

The deceased was a native of this county, having been born in the town of Buena Vista November 8, 1870, and except for about six months spent at Bartlesville, Okla., where he was in the livery business with Robt. Finch, a former resident of this city, he always resided in this immediate vicinity. He was at various times in the employ of local livery stables.

Mr. Currier was married to Miss Minnaddell Pollard twelve years ago and they were the parents of two children, Lloyd, aged nine, who resides with his grandmother at McDill, and Georgia, aged eleven, who resides with her mother's relatives at River Rouge, Mich. Other near relatives surviving, besides his mother, are a brother, Charles Currier, of this city, and a sister, Mrs. Aaron Ross, of McDill.

The funeral was held Sunday afternoon, services being conducted at the residence at McDill at 3 o'clock by Rev. James Blake of the Baptist church of this city. Interment was in the McDill cemetery. The pallbearers were Lester Warner, James McCormick, Ed. Myers, Dr. Moritz Krembs, Ed. Pipe and Ed. Norton.

WAS AN ADOPTED SON.

The Gazette is in receipt of a letter from Mrs. Luella Adams, dated at Lyndal, Utah, Sept. 8th, in which she encloses a clipping from this paper concerning the death by drowning of Robert Dunn, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Dunn, who now live at Lady-smith. Mrs. Adams says that "the child was my own baby boy. His name is Joseph Camille Calvy, and he was born at St. Mary's Home, Green Bay, Wis., Dec. 27th, 1905."

Further investigations bring the information that Mrs. Adams' statement is true in most particulars. Her name was Mrs. Calvy when the baby was born but shortly thereafter the child was placed in care of Mrs. Dunn and lived with the latter lady until its tragic death last spring. Some few years ago Mrs. Dunn regularly adopted Joseph and changed his name to Robert Dunn. At this time the mother's whereabouts was unknown. Through the legal proceedings above noted, Mrs. Adams lost claim to her son, although it is known that she made every effort to again secure possession of him. The Adams are engaged in the circus business and own a small outfit now touring the west.

GOING BACK TO ILLINOIS

Owners of Land in Buena Vista District Are Discouraged—Big Law Suit in Prospect.

E. McMahon, who owns 160 acres of land in the Buena Vista drainage district, has determined to return to his former home at Lacon, Ill., and will leave about Oct. 1st. He has made an effort to raise crops on the marsh lands for several years but the early frosts and other conditions over which he had no control have proved too great a handicap. Mr. McMahon is authority for the information that several other former residents of Illinois are soon to abandon their holdings in the district and return to the Sucker state. They believe that Portage county soil is not as good as represented by the former owners, the Bradley interests of Peoria, Ill., and have retained attorneys to recover at least a portion of their losses. The preliminary skirmish may take place before Judge Park next December.

Homes, barns and other buildings costing many thousands of dollars have been erected on the "big marsh" but efforts to raise crops met with at least partial failure each season, the greatest loss being from early frosts.

Apologies of the above paragraphs, the following communication from Bancroft will prove interesting and throws light on the other side of the story:

"As there has been considerable discussion in regard to crops on the marsh, I wish to state that Mr. John Sautler had a piece of rye that averaged 25 bushels per acre, while Mr. Hamiel, who lives about a mile northeast, threshed rye averaging 34 bushels to the acre. As to potatoes, regardless of the frost, it is estimated they will go 100 bushels per acre. This goes to show that if properly worked the marsh lands will bring results."

FOR COUNTY TEACHERS.

Miss Frances C. Bannach, county superintendent of schools, has received, for distribution among the teachers under her supervision, a large number of copies of a bulletin of the Superior Normal, devoted to "Arithmetic Games." The pamphlets were secured through the courtesy of V. E. McCaskill, president of the Superior Normal and a former member of the Stevens Point Normal faculty.

GRAIN YIELD LARGE.

John Yokers and family drove up from Buena Vista last Friday morning and joined the crowd at the fair grounds. Mr. Yokers owns a threshing outfit and has been operating his machine in that neighborhood during the past month. It will be another couple of weeks before his jobs are completed. The season is an exceptionally good one, as small grain turned out well.

BIG NEW BUILDING.

Geo. Souik, proprietor of the Independent creamery at Polonia, town of Sharon, has let a contract to John Milankowski and John Grocholski to erect a new building a few rods north of his plant. The structure will be of stone, 30x100 feet, with a metal or shingle roof. Jos. M. Somers will furnish the stone, which is gathered in that vicinity. Mr. Souik has not yet announced for what purpose the new building will be used.

JOINS KILTIES BAND.

Richard Burns, who had been visiting a few weeks at the home of his mother, Mrs. Mary Burns, on Normal avenue, left here last Friday to join the Kilties Band of Baltimore. They are at the Illinois state fair, Springfield, this week, and then leave for the west, playing engagements at many large cities before reaching San Francisco. Mr. Burns fills the position of trap drummer. As its name would imply, the members of this organization are presumed to be Scotchmen or of Scotch descent. "Dick's" surname was enough to "put him across." There is no doubt that he will be able to wear the kilties with becoming dignity and his ability to manipulate the drum sticks is fully recognized.

FORMER RESIDENT DIES.

Frank X. Foubare, who a few years ago was one of the best known men in Portage county, he being at one time proprietor of Hotel Rosebud at Junction City, died at his home in West Allis on Thursday, Sept. 2, and the remains were buried at Merrill the following Sunday afternoon. Mr. Foubare was taken ill on March 13 with angina pectoris, or neuralgia of the heart, other complications setting in later which caused his death. He was about fifty years of age and is survived by his widow and one daughter, Miss Rosebud Foubare. There are also three brothers, L. H. of West Allis, John and Mitchell of Mosinee, and two sisters, Mrs. Jas. Roth of Mosinee and Mrs. Mary Burris of Mist, Oregon.

Frank went to West Allis from Junction City and was engaged in business at the first named place for several years, but some six years ago entered the employ of the Allis Chalmers Co., makers of machinery, and was a foreman when taken sick.

He was a jolly, good natured man, an excellent companion and firm friend. All who knew him in this vicinity will be pained to learn of his untimely death.

TO THE GULF BY BOAT

Two Stevens Point Young Men About To Undertake Long Trip Down Two Great Rivers.

A journey by river of nearly 2,000 miles, followed, possibly, by a cruise on the Gulf of Mexico, is the trip about to be undertaken by two Stevens Point young men—Dan and George Martin, aged 22 and 18, respectively, sons of Mr. and Mrs. William Martin, 117 McCulloch street.

They are planning on starting out next Monday or shortly thereafter and will probably put their boat, which they have constructed themselves before and after working hours during the past two months, in the Wisconsin river below Neokosa, thus doing away with several portages. The craft is twenty-six feet in length, with four foot beam, and is equipped with a cabin, in which the brothers expect to live most of the time during the next year at least. It will be fitted out with stove, bunks and such conveniences as space will permit.

The boys will travel without power, depending on a pair of fourteen foot oars and the current to carry them down, although they may rig up a sail if conditions are favorable when the Mississippi is reached. On the way down the "Father of Waters" they will stop at practically every town of importance to canvass for the sale of a line of handy kitchen utensils. They expect in this way to earn the expense of their trip.

On nearing the Mississippi river the boys will put a heavy keel on their boat and also take on a quantity of concrete ballast. At New Orleans, provided they are satisfied with their trip and decide to go further, they will put in an engine and strike out for the Gulf and possibly wind up on the Atlantic seaboard.

The boys aim to "see the country" and to take their time about it. They realize the hardship of a trip so extensive, but are determined to make it one of pleasure and healthful recreation.

TO REMODEL HOUSE.

The Sisters of St. Michael's hospital, who some months ago purchased the Sprede cottage and lots just north of the hospital grounds, will thoroughly remodel the building, a contract for which was let to M. J. Mersch last week. Among the improvements will be installing a bathroom, laying new floors and making numerous other changes on the interior, the cost of which is estimated at $500.

BUILDING ELEGANT HOME.

W. E. Ule, who spent a week at his home in this city, left on Sunday afternoon's train for Diamond, Ohio, at which place and vicinity he has several big concrete jobs. Just before coming here Mr. Ule took a contract which will require about two hundred days to complete. Work is progressing rapidly on the modern home he is having erected on Main street and the family may be able to occupy the property about Thanksgiving time. It promises to be one of the handsomest residences in town.

EXCAVATING IS BEGUN

Governor, Central Board of Education and State Engineer Approve Dormitory Contracts.

All official impediments having been removed, the actual construction of the new $100,000 Normal school dormitory was begun at 7:30 o'clock this morning, when ground was broken for the excavating.

George B. Nelson, local member of the board of normal regents, on Saturday received the following telegram from Secretary Kittle: "Contracts for dormitory were approved by the state board of education today. The governor will probably approve Monday."

A second message, received by Mr. Nelson from the same source Monday evening, said: "The state engineer and the governor today approved all contracts for your dormitory."

With the "red tape" over, the Weinberg Construction Co. of Grand Rapids, which has the general contract for the building, wasted no time in getting started. A crew of three men and two teams, with scrapers and other equipment, arrived Tuesday and commenced operations this morning. The two houses that occupy part of the site will be removed to other locations this week, having been sold to private parties.

After the excavating is completed, work on the foundation and superstructure will be commenced without delay. There will be no let-up during the winter months and the structure will be ready for occupancy in plenty of time for opening of the next school year.

VANDAL CUTS HARNESS.

The police are working on a clew that may lead to the arrest of the vandal who badly damaged a single harness, the property of Jules Iverson. The harness was found in the barn at the rear of the Iverson jewelry store on North Third street Tuesday morning, with the tugs, lines and other leather parts severed. That it was a piece of spite work is the belief of Mr. Iverson and the police and it is probable that an arrest will be made shortly.

CANUCK BUSINESS SLOW.

Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Fisher have returned from a three weeks' trip through the east, visiting Detroit, Buffalo, Albany, New York city and Washington. They also went across the border and enjoyed the sights of Montreal and other Canadian cities. War conditions have played havoc with business interests in the dominion, this being especially true of the hotel line, as there is very little travel over there from the states.

TOMORROW BOOSTER DAY.

Stevens Point people will have a "booster day" of their own at the Amherst fair, if plans laid today materialize. Amherst people came to the local fair last week two hundred strong, and to return the compliment a delegation of Stevens Pointers will attend the Portage County fair there tomorrow. Everybody is invited to join the crowd. The trip can be made either by train or automobile very conveniently.

RESIDENCE CHANGES.

F. M. Playman has sold his residence property at 503 Michigan avenue to Marion Tardiff, who, with his family will take possession on Oct. 1, when they will remove from 112 Prentice street. Mr. Playman and family will move to a temporary location to await the completion of a new home they are erecting at the southwest corner of Clark street and Illinois avenue, which is expected to be ready for occupancy by the latter part of November. It will be of the bungalow type, of frame construction and modern throughout.

ALL RECORDS BROKEN

Stevens Point Normal Opens With Largest Enrollment in History—Class Work Begun.

With the biggest enrollment in its entire history, the twenty-second year of the Stevens Point Normal began this week. Monday and Tuesday were given over to registration of students and this morning at 9:40 o'clock the first general assembly was held. Classes were begun on regular schedule at 1:15 o'clock this afternoon.

The enrollment at 1 o'clock this afternoon totaled 502 and it is believed the number for the year will pass the 600 mark. The total enrollment for each of the three preceding years was as follows: 1912-13, 353; 1913-14, 406; 1914-15, 481.

Prof. O. W. Neale, the new director of the rural school department, had enrolled 107 students up to this morning, as compared to 92 for all of last year, and indications are that this number will be materially increased. The domestic science department, of which Miss Bessie M. Allen is at the head, has 100 young ladies enrolled.

Miss Helen Parkhurst, director of the primary department, arrived in the city Monday and has charge of the organization of primary work. Miss Parkhurst will leave Friday night on her return to San Francisco to continue her work with Dr. Montessori, to remain until the first of the year.

Miss Lois R. Jenness of Chippewa Falls has taken the position of clerk to President Sims. Miss Jenness is a graduate of the Chippewa Falls High school and for four years was clerk to Superintendent Brewer of that city, during which she also taught commercial branches in the High school.

The annual faculty reception to the students will be given in the gymnasium Friday evening, beginning at 8 o'clock.

"HENPECKED HENRY."

HAS A LUCKY ESCAPE

South Bound Soo Passenger in Accident Near Stone Lake Last Night.

Damage to track and a delay of eight hours were the most serious consequences of what might have been a disastrous wreck of one of the Soo line's "all steel" passenger trains Tuesday evening.

While No. 18, the southbound "Velvet Special" was speeding at the rate of fifty-four miles an hour, one of the trucks under the locomotive tank left the rails a short distance south of Stone Lake. Engineer Robert Cochran instantly realized the situation and applied the breaks, bringing the train to a stop within a distance of 1,000 feet.

The derailed trucks had bumped along the ties and over a bridge this entire distance, but luckily none of the coaches or the other trucks of the locomotive jumped the track. The passengers and members of the crew escaped without injury. Conductor C. D. Hinckley was in charge of the train.

The wrecker from this city was sent to the scene and No. 18 pulled into this city at 9:10 o'clock this morning. No. 17, the northbound "Velvet Special," was about an hour and a half late into Duluth.

LAST CONCERT TONIGHT.

The last open air band concert of the season will be given at court house park this evening, when Weber's organization will give the usual number of selected pieces. The band, about 35 strong, will leave for Milwaukee on the night Soo train, occupying a special sleeper placed at their disposal by the railway officials. They will furnish music at the state fair tomorrow. Through contributions made by our business people, to the amount of $100, the band was enlarged quite materially for its Milwaukee engagement. H. L. Bannister, who was one of the organization's most enthusiastic members for several years prior to a few weeks ago, when he removed to Milwaukee, will be with the boys for the day and will play the saxophone.

TIME IS THE TEST

The Testimony of Stevens Point People Stands the Test.

The test of time is what tells the tale. The public soon finds out when misrepresentations are made, and merit alone will stand the test of time.

Stevens Point people appreciate merit, and many months ago local citizens publicly endorsed Doan's Kidney Pills; they do so still. Would a citizen make the statement which follows unless convinced that the article was just as represented? Below is testimony such as the sufferer from kidney ills is looking for.

J. P. Chesley, 743 Strong's avenue, Stevens Point, says: "I was a sufferer from rheumatic pains as the result of disordered kidneys for many years. I have depended on Doan's Kidney Pills for relief for a long time and they have always done me a great deal of good. Nothing else has ever benefited me as Doan's Kidney Pills have, naturally, I heartily recommend them to all sufferers from that awful disease. You are welcome to continue publishing the endorsements I have given Doan's Kidney Pills before, as I know they are fine."

Price 50c at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mr. Chesley had. Foster-Milburn Co., Props., Buffalo, N. Y.

A SUFFERING NATION

Armenia, Christianity's Bulwark, Made To Bear Horrors of War in Caucasus.

"Swallowed up in the maelstrom of the southern Caucasus, which is now aflame with the strife of the Turks and the Russians, and near the meeting point of Persia, Russia and Turkey, is situated the most treasured and sacred possession of the Armenian nation, a nation without a country and with the longest record of bravely borne suffering of any people, and this possession is the monastery and cathedral of Echmiadzin, the Holy See of Armenian Christians, the heart of the Armenian nation, and the source of that strength which has held together and guided the Armenians through centuries of persecution, warfare and massacre," begins a bulletin issued by the National Geographic Society.

"Echmiadzin is the seat of the Catholicos, or primate, of the Gregorian Armenian Church, the sustaining force and the inspiration of a people whose lives and labors have been passed for a thousand years under the shadow of unnatural death. Nearly a thousand years have gone by since the fall of the last definite political State of the Armenians, yet their church has held them in their natural consciousness, and has preserved in them their distinguishing racial and social characteristics. Almost every member of the Armenian nation belongs to the Armenian Church, which counts its martyrs by the scores of thousands. The Church is more than its religion to the Armenian; it is his patriotism, his hope for survival, and the banner under which he has rallied for progress, education and justice for his people."

"Mount Ararat, where Noah landed, lies just to the south of the venerable Armenian See. Here runs the Russo-Turkish frontier, while a few miles to the southeast lies Persia. The monastery lies about 3,000 feet above the sea, 40 miles north of Ararat, and 12 miles west of Erivan, the capital of the Russian government in which it is situated. The Armenian Rome is surrounded by massive, grey mud walls, which enclose the monastery, the cathedral and an academy. The buildings are arranged around a great quadrangle, in the center of which stands the cathedral of St. Gregory the Illuminator, a church of more ancient beginnings than even far-famed Sancta Sophia of Constantinople. It has been the bulwark of Christianity against the barbarians of Asia since 302, and though its fight has been unusually severe, long and heroic, little is known of Echmiadzin among the peoples of the west."

"Throughout the years during which the Armenians have been divided between three more or less unfriendly states, Russia, Persia and the Ottoman Empire, and during their centuries or still more bitter suffering before the advent of Russia into the Caucasus, the Armenians have turned to Echmiadzin for guidance and support in all their troubles—and the history of this people generally impresses the student as being just one trouble after another with little justification for hope. The ancient grey monastery has been the religious, political and cultural center of the Armenian world."

"The library of Echmiadzin is a treasure-store of Armenian documents and literature, and among its shelves are kept some remarkable manuscripts of the gospels, dating from the 9th and 10th centuries. The monks maintain a type foundry and a printing press, and they have accomplished great things for the education of their people and for the development of Armenian literature. The academy connected with Echmiadzin is one of the finest educational institutions in the Armenian world, and many of its pupils do excellent graduate work in the German and Russian universities. It was founded under Catholicos George IV in 1873, and regularly trains between 200 and 300 boys."

"The Armenian Church is claimed by its adherents to be the oldest established Christian church in the world, having been founded in the first part of the third century. It is, probably, the most national of all churches in the world, for only Armenians belong to it. Today the heart of Armenia is in the midst of the path where savage conflicts are rubbing and dawning, and where, according to reports, destruction is more the law and religion supreme."

Knowlton's second "Trail Day" was fully as successful as the first. A road was built from Mascotti's corner north one-half mile to connect with the highway running to the town line road at Raymond's.

It is hoped that this road will bring a mail route to the doors of a number of old and deserving residents of the town and the work was cheerfully donated with this end in view.

It was a tough looking proposition that faced Chairman Feit and his sturdy crew in the morning—great holes where huge pine stumps had stood, an old well, hummocks, grubs and all the usual difficulties of a road through new country. But with five teams on each grader and one on a disc harrow, and a crew of men with axes and shovels, the work progressed at such a rapid rate that by five o'clock Uncle Sam's mail wagon could have jogged along with ease.

Frank DuPre again handled the culinary department, and with the resources of Matt Mascotti's comfortable farm home to draw from had an appetizing hot dinner well served. There was enough left for a hearty lunch at quitting time.

Following is the list of donors: Al. Raymond, L. Mascotti, Fred Marquardt, L. Moldenhauer, Geo. Otto, Geo. Ahles, Robt. Bush, Martin Zdrojovka and F. C. Odenwalder, team and man each; Mrs. John Barvetto and team and James Barvetto and Geo. Raymond each one horse and a man, making eleven teams in all. Joe Lanzi, two men, and John Majeski, Wallace Wylie, S. Swatowski, Alois Stark, Fred Mascotti, F. A. Wilcox, Adam Feit and Frank DuPre, each one man.

Chairman Adam Feit is planning one more grand "Trail Day," this time on the Wausau and Stevens Point road, and people from the adjoining towns are invited to come and see how it is done and incidentally to help out. There is always something doing when Feit's fairy feet begin to pat the "spike."

COMMON WEED SEEDS.

One hundred different specimens of common weed seeds are contained in a display received from the U. S. department of agriculture by the Skal-ski Co. of this city. Farmers are invited to inspect the exhibit at the company's store at the corner of Clark and South Second streets, for by so doing they can familiarize themselves with seeds that frequently adulterate the useful kinds and thus bring about the spread of dangerous weeds.

Chicago complains that the police are so busy with the foibles they don't get the real criminals, but that's always the excuse of the man who don't like being caught.

Rheumatism and Allied Pains—They Must Go!

The congestion of the blood in its flow causes pain. Sloan's Liniment penetrates to the congestion and starts the blood to flow freely. The body's warmth is renewed; the pain is gone. The "man or woman who has rheumatism, neuralgia or other pain and fails to keep Sloan's Liniment in their home is like a drowning man refusing a rope." Why suffer? Get a bottle of Sloan's. 25c and 50c. $1.00 bottle holds six times as much as 25c size.

WATCH THE DISEASE MOON.

A "contagious disease almanac" which shows the waxing and waning of certain diseases instead of the corresponding changes in the moon has been prepared by this bureau for the purpose of forecasting possible epidemics and to provide seasonable warning and "danger signals" for Wisconsin people. It covers the most important preventable diseases in Wisconsin and shows by months when they are most prevalent and when least to be feared. The information should be of practical value to parents, teachers and health officers.

Did you chance to know, for instance, that January brings the largest number of deaths from diphtheria and croup of any months in the year, that it is one of the three for the maximum number of cases of whooping cough and is the beginning of the scarlet fever danger season? Typhoid alone, of all the leading infectious diseases which cause death in Wisconsin, is on the wane during this month, which marks the developing of many cases of measles and the recognition of many cases of tuberculosis.

Much of interest and value is to be gained by consulting this almanac which is based on accurate scientific knowledge. According to its tabulation, the closing months of the year call for unusual vigilance in guarding against disease. The real danger from typhoid fever begins in September with a great increase in cases and deaths. October shows a continued increase in number of cases and in mortality and in November the climax in both cases and deaths is reached. December shows a decrease in both cases and deaths, although the calendar proves typhoid to be practically an all-year round problem.

September shows a decrease in measles and scarlet fever, but there is a marked increase in both diseases in October and November. There are fewer deaths but more cases of measles in October, while in the following month the real danger time begins with a great increase in both the number of cases and mortality. Measles continues its increase in number of cases and deaths in December, but this month marks a decrease in the number of cases of scarlet fever. The disease is more severe, however, and the mortality higher.

Whooping cough, which has its greatest death record in January, February, March and April, and its lowest in June and August, begins increasing in September, shows a decrease in mortality but an increase in number of cases in October and a decrease in both cases and deaths in November. There are fewer cases but a slightly higher percentage of deaths in December.

October ranks next to January for deaths from diphtheria and croup. December is third and November is fourth in mortality for these diseases. Tuberculosis, which invariably shows its largest number of reported cases and deaths during the quarter-year which includes April, May and June, begins its annual increase in October. Mortality from this disease is high in both November and December, also in March, which is one of the chief months for high report of cases and deaths.

These diseases might all be wiped out of existence by proper sanitation, hygienic living and strict quarantine. The almanac points out the danger periods. It remains for the enlightened people to do away with them.

BOOSTER DAY GAMES

Wausau and Marshfield Coming for Double Header Next Sunday—
Season Nears Close.

Next Sunday, September 19, will be "booster day" for the Stevens Point baseball team of the Wisconsin Valley league. The Wausau and Marshfield teams are coming for their final appearance and each of the teams will clash with the locals at the fair grounds, playing off two postponed contests. Wausau will meet the home aggregation in the opener at 1:45 o'clock, while the Marshfield-Stevens Point encounter will be commenced at 3:15.

The admission for the double bill will be thirty-five cents and lovers of the national pastime are urged to turn out and do their part toward setting a new season's record for attendance. The Elks have promised to assist in making the day a success, in return for the action of the baseball management postponing a game at the time of the Elks' picnic here several weeks ago.

The Stevens Point team will wind up its schedule on September 26, when Grand Rapids will come here to play off the game that was billed for last Sunday but was postponed on account of the inclement weather.

GONE ON THE ROAD.

"The House of Mystery," a company of vaudeville players, have left here to open their season's engagements at the Amherst fair, from which place they intend to play all the leading theatres in the surrounding country. The company consists of the following members: Eugene Cooper, manager; Jedd Chenevert, Jr., secretary; Chas. J. Abb, treasurer. They will be supported by a company of artistic players.

PLAYED FOURTEEN INNINGS.

It took the White Sox and the Rivals of the City league fourteen innings to reach a decision in the baseball game played at the fair grounds Sunday. The Sox, with F. Marx and Walldorf as battermen, won by a score of 5 to 3; Hubbard and Schupp did the artillery work for the Rivals. The Continentals did not show up for their game with the Cubs and as a result the bruins claim a victory by forfeit. With this state of affairs the White Sox and Cubs are tied for the leadership and they will play the championship game next Sunday. The team losing this game will then meet the Continentals to decide second place.

ENTERS STATE CONTEST.

The contest to decide the champion speller among rural school boys and girls of Wisconsin was held at Milwaukee, in connection with the state fair, this afternoon, and Portage county was represented by Agnes Finnessy, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. T. S. Finnessy of Stockton township, who carried off the honors in the contest held at the local Normal last June. Miss Frances C. Bannach, county superintendent, and Miss Alice Gordon, supervising teacher, accompanied Miss Finnessy to Milwaukee Tuesday and all will return home Friday.

THREE ARE INVOLVED.

As the result of disclosures made by two young girls, who were brought before Judge Murat in juvenile court recently, charged with incorrigibility, Charles A. Lane, Jay Gaylord and Stella Seibt, all of this city, must answer to the charge of contributing to the delinquency of minors. They were arraigned in county court last Thursday, when they entered pleas of not guilty and their hearing was adjourned to tomorrow, September 16. Lane and the Seibt woman gave bail in the sum of $500, but Gaylord is confined in the county jail.

Johnnycake.

In tracing the term "Johnnycake," says a writer, we find ourselves at a time antedating by many years steam cars and hotels on wheels, in an age when mankind depended entirely upon his four footed companions for transportation and had only saddlebags in which to carry his luggage. Taverns were few and far apart, and a lunch was always acceptable. Cornmeal, forming so large a part of the dietary in those days, held a chief place in making up the lunch. Wet with water and a little salt added, it was baked in a shape that stored away in the saddlebags nicely and was called Johnnycake. This is the origin of our modern, unconventional Johnnycake.

Mighty Canopus.

The largest star now known is Canopus, in the southern constellation of the Ship, invisible to us of the northern hemisphere. The luminosity of Canopus is 47,000 times that of the sun, its area 18,000 times more vast, its diameter 134 times and its volume 2,420,000 times superior to the respective measures of our solar focus. Its mass is 1,350,000 times greater. According to the interesting hypothesis of O. R. Walkley, an English astronomer, Canopus is in reality our central sun, about which our own weak luminary and its planets, including the earth, are describing an orbit.—Paris Revue Scientifique.

A Story of Cervantes.

Cervantes once gave a proof that his generosity was fully equal to his genius. In the early part of his life he was for some time a slave in Algiers, and there he devised a plan to free himself and thirteen of his fellow sufferers. One of them traitorously revealed the design, and they were all taken before the dey of Algiers, who promised them their lives on condition that they revealed the contriver of the plot.

"I was that person," at once cried Cervantes. "Save my companions and let me perish alone."

The dey, struck by his intrepidity, spared his life, allowed him to be ransomed and permitted him to go home.

The Midnight Sun.

The midnight sun is not visible south of the polar circle. It is above the horizon throughout the twenty-four hours at Bodo from June 3 to July 7, at Tromso from the 19th of May to the 22d of July and at the North cape from the 12th of May to the 29th of July. There are corresponding periods during December, January and November when the sun is not seen, but the darkness of the winter is by no means so great as might be imagined with no sun in view.

The whiteness of the snow and the glimmer of the northern lights make a sort of perpetual twilight.—London Telegraph.

Umbrella on Horseback.

The late Duc de Sagan set many a fashion among French dandies, and among others that of wearing a single eyeglass with a very wide black ribbon—a practice followed for many years by Parisians who wished to look smart. In one respect, however, his most faithful admirers refused to follow the duke. This was when he took to carrying an umbrella on horseback. He first indulged in this eccentricity at a race meeting. When a show came down and the leader of fashion was seen to be holding an umbrella over himself and his horse the sensation was immense. No one ventured to imitate him, however, and finally he abandoned the practice.—Exchange.

WHY YOU ARE NERVOUS

The nervous system is the alarm system of the human body.

In perfect health we hardly realize that we have a network of nerves, but when health is ebbing, when strength is declining, the same nervous system gives the alarm in headaches, tiredness, dreamful sleep, irritability and unless corrected, leads straight to a breakdown.

To correct nervousness, Scott's Emulsion is exactly what you should take; its rich nutrient gets into the blood and rich blood feeds the tiny nerve-cells while the whole system responds to its refreshing tonic force. It is free from alcohol.

HOW TO KEEP YOUR PIANO.

Some years ago a piano expert said that it is a mistake to keep a piano tightly closed. The fall board should be left partly closed when one goes away for the summer. This keeps out the greater part of the dust and, what is more important, permits a circulation of air and helps to keep the strings in better condition. He says that the best way to prevent moths from getting into a piano is to have the piano blown out by a professional piano tuner occasionally in order to keep the dust out. Moths will attack new pianos as well as old ones. It is not always possible to guard against them, but the dust can be kept out by a blower.

Every piano dealer nowadays has piano blowers to sell, and these little bellows arrangements are not expensive. One can be bought for $3. Ordinarily the tuner will blow out the dust for 50 cents. On a grand piano the owner can use the bellows herself, but it is wiser to have a professional use it on an upright piano. If your piano is a player piano you can get a kinetic blower, which will cost you about $5 and which you can operate yourself.

SOUR CREAM.

How to Utilize This Valuable Food in Various Ways.

The idea with most women is not "What can we do with it, but instead tell us some new ways of using it profitably." Many of us have used sour cream for griddle cakes, biscuits of various kinds, cakes, cookies, short-cakes, puddings, salad dressings, meat sauces, fish sauces and, freezing it with fruit juices, have made most delightful ice cream. And did you ever use sour cream in place of milk in preparing a white sauce for codfish? If not, you have a treat in store. Do not cook the cream too long to allow it to curdle the mixture. But you ask for recipes, and here are just a few:

Sour Cream Cookies.—Take a cupful of sugar and a cupful of molasses to two cupfuls of rich sour cream, add two well beaten eggs, a teaspoonful of soda and one of baking powder, a tablespoonful of ginger, a dash of cinnamon and cloves and enough flour to roll. Let stand on ice to chill before rolling out.

Chocolate Cake.—Take a cupful of brown sugar and half a cupful of sour cream, half a teaspoonful of soda, one egg well beaten, a cupful and a half of flour sifted with a (teaspoonful of baking powder. Dissolve two squares of chocolate in half a cupful of boiling water and add to the cake the last thing. Flavor with vanilla and bake in two layers.

Cabbage Salad.—Shred cabbage very fine and plunge into cold water to crisp. Drain and dress with sour cream, sugar, salt and, if not quite sour enough, a very little vinegar may be added. This is a salad which can be enjoyed at any meal with almost any combination of foods.

Sour cream when mixed with fruit juices and sweetened will freeze smooth and velvety. Orange juice with sour cream and sugar to sweeten is a combination especially tasty and delightful. Mix and freeze as an ice cream. Raspberry, grape juice or peach juice are others. Lemon is such an acid with the sour cream also an acid that the result is not so good unless a sour frozen dish is desired.

Hints For Traveling Baby.

The two most common mistakes made in traveling with children are with respect to their clothes and their food. In the hot summer weather, for a long journey, the little child should be dressed only in the sleeveless gauze shirt and diaper, with one thin outer garment. A sleeveless low necked slip of white china silk is best, since it is much cooler than cotton, sheds the dust and can be washed out in the basin when soiled.

It is well to change the baby's clothing as soon as the journey begins in order to have the regular outfit clean to put on when leaving the train. The little baby may go barefooted, but an older child should have barefoot sandals to protect the feet from the cinders scattered over the floor.

Mothers should observe the same regular hours for feeding their children as at home. One of the worst things she can do is to give the baby cakes, candy, bananas, sweet crackers and the like, as so many mothers do, to keep him quiet in the train. This kind of irregular feeding with unsuitable foods, together with the heat of the train and the fatigue and excitement of traveling, is very apt to upset the baby and make him irritable and restless.

Use a patent bottle to keep baby's milk cool, not warm. The porter will bring you a bowl of hot water to warm the feeding at the regular hour.

How to Renew Worn Tablecloth.

Buy four yards of torchon insertion at a sale; cut it in halves; then cut four squares from the best part of the tablecloth and join to insertion, using the selvages or outside edges for center of cloth, your insertion, of course, to cross the center. Trim edges and hem. Result, a very good looking tablecloth.

Another way is to cut carefully all around, hem it by hand and sew a wide torchon lace edge on the edge, making a round tablecloth to fit the table. The four corners cut from the above make four small hemstitched napkins.

GOOD MANNERS.

What are good manners? Many definitions have been given from time to time, but one of the best is the sort of manners which are guided by kindness and consideration for others. If you keep this in mind you need not be afraid of criticism. If you let your actions be guided by motives of kindness, if you consider others before yourself, you are bound to do the right thing—which is the kind thing—at the right time.

The Sexes in Church.

The separation of the sexes seems to have been formerly by no means an uncommon practice in the Church of England. In fact, Edward VI.'s prayer book specially mentions that at the communion service "the men shall tarry on one side and the women on the other." The papers of a church in Westmorland include elaborate directions for the division of the sexes at its services. All wedded men were to be placed first before any of the young men, and all young wives were to "follow and come not at their mother-in-law's forms"—this was presumably before the days of the pew—"as long as their mother-in-law lives."—London Standard.

Helios Alias Elias.

We may pass as good enough the Russian aviators' reason for making the prophet Elijah their patron saint—his ascent to heaven in a chariot of fire. But there is a curious point in connection with the fact that so many hilltops in Greece are dedicated to and named after Elijah—or, at any rate, after St. Elias—for some will have it that the particular saint thus commemorated is not the Old Testament prophet, but a hermit of the fourth Christian century. It seems pretty well established that in pagan times these hills were sacred to the sun—Helios—and that the name has been neatly adapted to suit Christian requirements.—London Chronicle.

Living Indefible Ink

If the shell of the Turpura lapillus be broken there is seen on the back of the animal, just under the skin, a slender, whitish vein which contains a yellow liquor. When this liquor is applied to linen with a small brush and exposed to the sun it becomes successively green, blue and purple and finally settles into a brilliant unchangeable crimson.

Historic Limoges.

Once a flourishing Roman city and supposed to be one of seven cities where Christianity was planted about the middle of the third century, Limoges is the capital of the department of Haute-Vienne and is 250 miles south of Paris. Its porcelain manufactures are justly celebrated. In 1768 kaolin was found near by, and naturally Limoges immediately began making the hard paste porcelain. This is more durable, though ware of soft paste absorbs less color in the decorating and has a pleasing softness of effect.

English Names For Towns.

Many names of towns in England have been appropriated for a similar use in this country. These names frequently indicate in themselves the origin of the towns. For instance, names ending in "chester" or "cester" or "caster," such as Dorchester, Worcester and Lancaster, undoubtedly apply to sites of old military settlements or camps, and the termination is derived from "castrum," the Latin word for camp. If the name of a place ends in "coln," like Lincoln, then it, too, is of Roman origin, because the Latin word for colony is colonia. When the syllable "by" ends the word, like Rugby, we know the Danes are responsible for the name, for the Danish word for town is by.

A cow is a very good animal in the field, but we turn her out of a garden.—Johnson.

MISTAKES.

Even the very best and wisest man is liable to make a mistake. Consequently we should all be tolerant of the mistakes of others. Whoever cultivates in himself a proper humility, a due sense of his own faults and insufficiencies and a due respect for others will find but small temptation to violent and unreasonable anger.

LOSES TWO COWS.

Nick Britz of Linwood was in town last Monday, bringing up a couple of hides which he sold to local dealers. The hides were taken from Mr. Britz's cows, which met tragic deaths a couple of days before. He had a herd of ten animals which were transferred to a pasture that was unused for about three months and in the meantime a number of poisonous weeds sprang up. Two Holsteins ate quantities of the stuff and although prompt veterinary attention was given them, they could not be saved.

JAP CARTOONIST.

The Japanese cartoonists have been following the controversy between Uncle Sam and Germany quite as intelligently as have the European and American artists. The current Cartoons Magazine published two contrasting views of the situation taken from the vernacular newspapers of Cherry Blossom Land. One pictures Uncle Sam winding in his own web the kaiser, who is represented as a rather vicious-looking tarantula. A contrasting design represents Uncle Sam as a scarecrow with a bow and arrow labeled "Protest." A German crew is perched on a tipsy plug hat of the scarecrow in an attitude of disrespect and defiance.

A QUESTION FOR WOMEN.

In the October Woman's Home Companion William J. Burns, the famous detective, begins a series of true detective stories about women. His first story is entitled "The Woman in the Case," and in the following general comment which precedes his story he raises an interesting point:

"If you follow the reports of crime in the newspapers you have read some such paragraph as this a hundred times:

"The police finally succeeded in discovering a woman in One Hundred and Twenty-first street, a former associate of the gang. Under their questioning she broke down and disclosed the names of the gang's members and their hiding place. Late last night the place was raided; the whole outfit was lodged in jail. All of them refused to make any statement except Peg-Leg Brown, the leader, who said, 'Any man's a fool that trusts a woman.'"

"That is one type of woman with which we who deal with crime and criminals become very familiar—the weak, wavering, often, but not always, vicious companion of bad men. She has her own large place in the annals of criminal history; she is the heart of a thousand interesting cases.

"But the woman in the case of whom I shall write today is a very different type. I mean the good woman, the mother or sweetheart or sister or daughter of the man who has been led astray. She is just such a woman as you are, my reader.

"Suppose, for instance, that someday I should call at your house and say to you: 'Madam, I want to talk to you about your boy. He has been running with bad associates; he has involved himself in a criminal undertaking. I am here to arrest him, and I want your help.' What would you do?"

"Would your mother instinct, rushing to the defense of your child, prompt you to hide him, to lie to me, to play for time in which to let the boy escape?"

"Or suppose that instead of your son he was your sweetheart. Suppose that his confession would mean almost certain imprisonment, the postponement of your marriage for a year or two years or three, and, after that, a lifetime of union with one who had fallen short of your ideal, on whom the state had put the brand of criminal—suppose that a word from you could throw me off the trail long enough to let him escape with no other punishment than the reproaches of his own conscience, and of yours, what would you do?"

In this climate catarrh is a prevalent disease. Catarrh affects the stomach as often as any other organ. Perhaps every third person is more or less troubled with stomach catarrh. Peruna is extensively used in these cases.

FAR DISTANT URANUS.

Oddities A Visit to This Gigantic Planet Would Disclose.

If Uranus, which is a star of about the sixth magnitude, were a planet like those little ones called asteroids, which are being discovered by the dozen every year. It could not have much claim upon popular attention, but Uranus is really a gigantic world, more than sixty times as large as ours. Its vast distance, about 1,700,000,000 miles from the earth, is what causes it to look so small.

Uranus has four moons, which revolve backward in their orbits—that is to say, they revolve from east to west around Uranus, while Uranus goes, like all the other planets, from west to east around the sun. It is believed that Uranus rotates backward on its axis also. Moreover, the axis of that great, strange globe lies in such a direction that in the course of its year, which is equal to eighty-four of our years, the sun shines almost perpendicularly first upon one pole and then upon the other.

Measured by our time standard, there are forty years of constant daylight, followed by forty years of unbroken night, around the poles of Uranus, and the sun rises in the west and sets in the east there, but the sun looks very small when viewed from Uranus—only one four-hundredth as large as it appears to us. Still it sheds upon that planet 1,500 times as much light as the full moon sends to the earth, so that daylight upon Uranus, while faint compared with the blaze of a terrestrial noonday, is nevertheless a very respectable kind of illumination.

The Game of Life.

The game we are all playing is a losing game at best. Yet we must play. We cannot get up and leave the table knowing the dice are caged and the cards marked against us. We must play on, losing our principal stake until by little or in splendid confusion, as chance or our disposition may urge, but knowing well that in the end, soon or late, whatever remains of it will be swept from the board. Lucky the man who is tempted to play but the one stake. Happy the man who in death loses only his life.—F. P. Dunne in American Magazine.

Bluejacket's Black Necktiechief. It is not generally known that the bluejacket's black necktiechief, a survival of the service mourning for Nelson, is the best British silk obtainable and that the admiralty is a very fastidious customer. Two to each man are issued annually, and many thousands of these discarded scarfs have been subsequently worn by Jack's family. A pair of them make an excellent blouse.—Fall Mail Gazette.

ANOTHER FAIR PASSED

Stevens Point's 1915 Show Was a Big Success Financially and in Many Other Ways.

Another Stevens Point fair has been recorded on the pages of history. The hard work and the pleasures of anticipation are over, but the officers, directors and all others who gave it their active support can not reflect on the event without being confronted with the fact that their labors were well spent, that the fair was one of the best, if not the very best, ever held in central Wisconsin.

In many ways, of course, the big show was much the same as those of years past, but in the aggregate it was the superior of all. The exhibits in all departments were large and of exceptional quality, while the races have never been surpassed in general merit on the local track.

Judged from the financial standpoint, this year's fair had a comfortable margin over that of 1914. According to the records of Treasurer C. S. Orthman, the total receipts in 1914 were $2,949.05; this year they totaled $3,455.37, a gain of $506.32. This will give the association a neat balance after all expenses are paid.

The attendance on Tuesday and Wednesday was about the same as in other years, but Thursday, with a crowd of nearly 10,000 people on the grounds, broke all records for recent years. Over four hundred people came to the city on the special trains provided by the Soo line and the Green Bay & Western, while hundreds more came in automobiles and rigs from far and near. The weather was almost perfect.

The greatest disappointment of all came on Friday, "Children's Day," when prospects for a new mark for attendance were shattered by the actions of the weather dispenser. It rained hard during the early hours of the morning and intermittently throughout the day, putting the track in such condition that the harness races were necessarily called off. Notwithstanding this, two or three thousand people, mostly boys and girls, were on the grounds and the management made every effort to entertain and amuse them.

Mark Bellis of Wausau officiated very satisfactorily as starter for the races, the results of which follow:

The 2:25 pace on Thursday was without question the most interesting a local crowd has ever been privileged to witness. After five heats had been run off without producing a winner, Gem B. and Bill Bailey, each of which had two heats to its credit, were pitted against each other to decide first and second places. The result was a victory for Gem B., but the distance between the contenders at the wire was a matter of inches.

On Friday a half mile running race between farmers' horses was put on. A horse owned by Jas. Coulthurst of Plover took two heats and the race; the entry of James Isherwood of Plover was second and that of Percy Newby of Buena Vista third.

The exposition building, with its many booths and exhibits, was visited by thousands of interested people, as was also the agricultural hall, where a large display of Portage county potatoes was a feature. The poultry department was made up of about 400 birds, many of which were owned in this county, while the live stock department was perhaps the largest ever seen in this part of the state. Of particular interest were the fine specimens of blooded cattle, including Jerseys, Guernseys, Holsteins and other favorite varieties.

The headline free attraction was that of the "Fearless Greggs," who gave performances on Wednesday, Thursday and Friday afternoons in the infield, in front of the grandstand. Although purely and simply a mechanical act, in which two "dummy" automobiles shot down a steep incline, one to loop a double loop in the air and the other to loop the gap, the nerve of the riders—one a woman and the other a man—stood out prominently. Twice thrills that were not on the program were uncorked. On Thursday one of the cars barely missed a woman spectator and collided with a real automobile, which got the worst of the crash, while on Friday the vehicle in which the woman was riding turned turtle after leaving the slide, due to the blowing out of a tire. Instantly an excited crowd gathered, but the plucky little woman smilingly allayed their fears by walking to the platform and bowing to the audience. The fact that the frame of the car in which she rode was of steel construction, with high back and sides, saved her from injury.

An attraction that appealed especially to the children was "Foxy Queen," the educated bear. Although her specialty is roller skating, Queen demonstrated she was versatile and up-to-date by steering an automobile around the track—and she did it without a mishap. On Friday she drove around several times with the car piled full of youngsters, whose beaming faces showed they enjoyed the novelty of it.

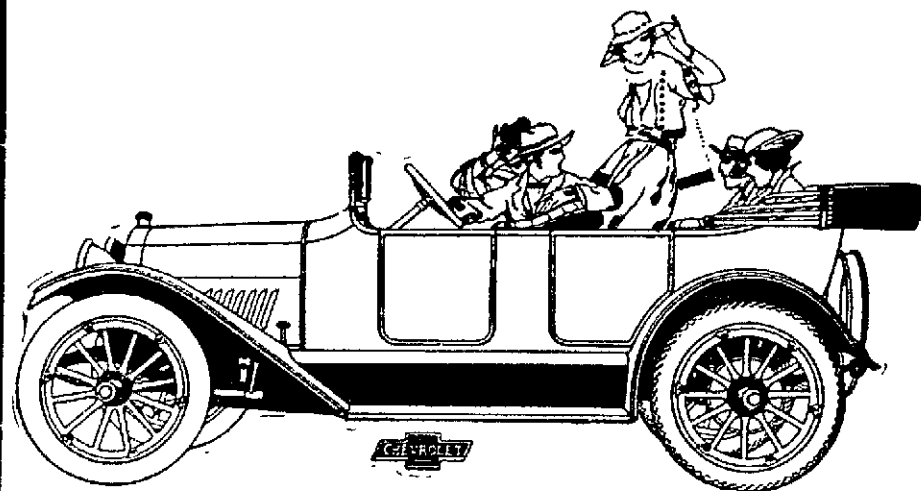

The other free attraction was put on by one of the bright Shetland ponies owned by the Hall trained animal show. The little equine solved mathematical problems, distinguished between colors and bowed to the audience, seemingly proud of the fact that he was the center of attraction.

And then there was the midway, with its barkers and its odds of "red-hot." There were shows, eating houses, general stands, doll racks, cake racks, knife racks, spinning wheels and everything else that goes to make up a lively pike and, although the weather cut into the receipts, most of the concessionists did a good business. Many of those who had space in this department were from outside the city and not a few of them have been annual visitors to the fair for years back.

And music! No other Stevens Point nor any other fair in this part of the state was so well supplied, either in quantity or quality. Weber's band of this city—the organization that will be one of the attractions at the state fair in Milwaukee tomorrow—was at the grounds each afternoon and made many new admirers. On Thursday there were three other bands—one from Hancock, one from Bancroft and one from Amherst. Few towns of similar size in the state can boast of as large or as efficient bands. The Bancroft and Hancock organizations gave concerts on the uptown streets in the morning before going out to the fair grounds. Weber's band entertained large audiences on Wednesday, Thursday and Friday evenings, when they played between the hours of 8 and 9 in front of the postoffice.

Dr. G. F. Murphy went to Milwaukee last Friday, accompanied by his wife, to have an operation performed. He had his tonsils removed. Dr. Murphy returned Saturday.

We read in last week's issue of The Gazette that some mystery man had blown up a threshing machine near Stockton. We hope that the affair wasn't connected with the present war.

Jos. Akey, F. Pickarski and David Cora went to Stevens Point last Thursday morning. Joe and Frank had a longing to see the racing ponies at the fair and remained for the day, but Dave made a bee line for a newspaper and magazine shop and boarded

No. 11 back with an armful of up-to-date magazines. Yes, Dave is "heavy" for the news stuff, and wants to know what's going on outside of Junction City.

No base ball game was played here last Sunday. It seems that the management has one hard time to book games with outsiders, even with the "has been" prairie bunch or the sand lot aggregations. The boys get so lonesome for the national pastime when Sunday comes along that they don't know what to do with themselves. We hope that it won't be that way next year.

The St. Paul railroad company has laid a cement platform for about ten car lengths along their right-of-way. Its smooth surface is a temptation for bicycle and motorcycle riders, but speeding on the walk is inclined to result in injury to children as it did a few days ago. We hope that the grownups will have sense enough to keep off the platform with their machines. If they want a tryout of speed, take the country roads where there are no little children and avoid serious injury and save some mother from grief.

COME HERE TO WED.

Bert Eastman of Phillips and Miss Theresa Schanberger of Medford were united in marriage by Rev. John A. Stemen at the Presbyterian manse on Church street at 2 o'clock this afternoon. Mr. and Mrs. Eastman left at 3 o'clock for a wedding trip to points in the southern part of the state, at the conclusion of which they will go to Phillips to reside.

BADGER CATTLE TO FAIR.

The foot and mouth disease which recently broke out in a number of the states will not prevent a display of Wisconsin livestock at the Panama-Pacific exposition at San Francisco in the fall as was at first thought. According to information received from San Francisco at the headquarters of the Wisconsin Panama-Pacific exposition commission on Friday, many prize cattle will soon be shipped west.

SOILS BEING EXAMINED.

Final detailed soil surveys of six counties in north central Wisconsin are being made this summer by the Soil Department of the University of Wisconsin in co-operation with the State Geological and Natural History Survey. Eight men have been working during the past season under the direction of A. R. Whitson and W. J. Geib.

A report of the finding, together with certain recommendations will be published some time during the coming year. The counties included in the survey, which supplements a less detailed survey made about ten years ago, are Clark, Marathon, Taylor, Lincoln, Wood and Portage.

PICK SEED TUBERS.

Farmers wishing to avoid a recurrence of potato blight in their fields during 1916 should make it a point to select seed stock only from crops grown on land that has been free from blight and rot this year.

Such careful selection of seed stock is the only salvation in sight, according to R. E. Vaughan of the Agricultural Experiment Station of the University of Wisconsin. While preventive measures, such as the application of Bordeaux mixture to plants in late summer, may often check the blight, it is far wiser and safer to begin by careful seed selection at digging time. Disease-free seed represents the "ounce of prevention" so universally recognized as superior to a "pound of cure."

PICNIC AT POLONIA.

A cordial invitation is extended to all to attend a picnic to be given by St. Isadore's Society at Polonia, Tuesday, Sept. 21, for the benefit of the Sisters convent there. Music will be furnished by a brass band and many amusements and games will furnish a good program. w2

TO LIVE ON FARM.

Mr. and Mrs. Peter Clay left last Friday afternoon for Coloma, Mich., where they have purchased a fruit farm on which they will make their home for a time, at least. They will be joined there in the near future by their son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Clay, who left Monday, going by way of Oshkosh and Manitowish. At the last named city they will visit at the home of Mrs. Clay's sister, Mrs. J. E. Theill. The departure of the Clay families is regretted by scores of friends in Stevens Point, whose wishes for future good fortune go with them to their new place of residence. Mrs. E. H. Clay is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Smith, 627 Elk street.

YOUNG MEN TEACHERS.

Troy Gordon, second son of Mr. and Mrs. M. L. Gordon, left here last Sunday for the town of New Hope, where he will teach the Peru school during the fall and winter term. The youngest son, Royal Gordon, has a school at Junction City, and Lancelot Gordon left on Saturday's train for Merrimack, Sauk county, where he began the duties of principal. The latter young man is a graduate of the local Normal.

RHINELANDER MEN HERE.

Mayor Fred Anderlie, Adam Schliesmann and Sam Johnson drove from Rhinelander via automobile last Monday, reaching here early in the evening and spent the night in town. They were enroute to Milwaukee to attend the state fair. Mr. Schliesmann is a boyhood resident of Sharon township and the oldest son of Mr. and Mrs. Peter Schliesmann, Portage county pioneers.

BIG WATER SUPPLY.

Since the last meeting of the city council several tests have been made of the drive wells sunk near the banks of the Plover river, on what is known as the E. D. Brown mill site, and a conservative estimate shows that close to 1,500,000 gallons can be pumped daily from the ground on which the city recently secured an option. Of the purity of the product, there has never been any question. Other tests will be made on the Butterfield farm, southeast of town, and definite results may be known very shortly. A special committee of aldermen has charge of this work and expect to make a full report at the next meeting of the council.

ARE NOT DISCOURAGED

School Consolidation Question, Twice Defeated, To Come Up Again in Buena Vista.

Friends of school consolidation in the town of Buena Vista have not abandoned their fight, despite the fact that the proposition has been twice defeated. New petitions are out, calling for a third election, and it is planned to take another vote within the next few weeks.

The first defeat came on July 31, when the plan to consolidate five districts in Buena Vista and one in Stockton was blocked by the negative vote in the Stockton district. Following this it was decided to put the question to the five Buena Vista districts, all of which had previously voted in favor of consolidation. This election was held last Saturday, September 11, and two districts—Nos. 2 and joint 8—went against the proposition.

The districts in which the vote was favorable are Nos. 1, 3, and 4. These three will be consolidated if a favorable vote is cast at the election soon to be held.

VISITS BOYHOOD SCENES.

Mr. and Mrs. James Redding of Merrill spent last week at the home of his brother, Sylvester Redding, in the town of Stockton, and attended the fair on Thursday. "Jim" is a native of Portage county but has lived at Merrill for many years, where he is engaged in the transfer business and also has the street sprinkling contract. This is his first visit since 1902 and he was amazed at the many substantial improvements made in our city within that time.

GERMANS GAIN CONTROL OF ROAD

Hindenburg Sets Foot on Rovno-Petrograd Line.

BATTLES HARD TO WIN ROVNO

Slavs Are Retreating Farther Eastward, With Desperate Combats Taking Place Daily in the Marshy Districts—Take 30,000 Teutons Prisoners.

PETROGRAD — Evacuation of Vilna will follow cutting of the Vilna-Petrograd railroads, it was semi-officially admitted. One German army is pressing eastward north of Vilna and another is moving eastward from the region of Orany.

PARIS — A German submarine has been torpedoed and sunk by a French torpedo boat patrol between Mytilene and Penagos, says an Athens dispatch to the Journal.

LONDON — By one of those battering offensives, which although costly in men and munitions, have invariably been successful, Field Marshal von Hindenburg's army has at last set foot on the Rovno-Petrograd railway, between Vilna and Dvinsk. The whole Austro-German forces have been striving to gain this railway since the fall of the Polish fortresses.

The offensive, which began toward the end of last week was carried on from three directions upon Dvinsk and the railway on either side of the town, while further south the invaders advanced toward Vilna.

Russians in Lake District. The Russians, before superior forces supplied with the usual mass of artillery, were forced back to the lake district which the railway penetrates, and are now making a stand there.

Simultaneously the Germans pushed their way eastward toward Slonim and Pinsk, both of which are on roads which join the main railway line, while the Austrians, with whom there are many German units, are fighting hard to reach Rovno, the southern terminus of the line.

Slavs May Retire Farther.

With this railway partly in the hands of the Germans, it is possible that the Russians will be compelled to make a further retirement, although their offensive in Galicia, which continues, might save them by compelling the Germans to send reinforcements to this region.

There is now no doubt of Russian success in this district as, following the Austrian admission of their retirement, the Germans announce that after repulsing Russian attacks they occupied "a favorable position situated some kilometers west of our former position."

Slavs Take 30,000 Prisoners.

The condition under which the troops are fighting in the marshy country in the center and on the southern end of the line are described by German correspondents as most terrible. The country is virtually all under water. According to the Russian accounts, nearly 10,000 prisoners have been taken.

U. S. MAY O. K. CARRANZA

A. B. C. Mediators Also Expected to Admit He Is Provisional President.

WASHINGTON, D. C. — Plans practically perfected by the administration are carried out, General Carranza is to be recognized as provisional president of Mexico by the United States and South American countries as a step toward ending the internal warfare in Mexico.

The A. B. C. mediators who are to meet with Secretary Lansing Wednesday, to consider final moves for the partition of Mexico are agreed that Carranza is to continue under present conditions until the United States and South American countries have accepted his position.

It is understood that Carranza is to be recognized as provisional president of Mexico by the United States and South American countries as a step toward ending the internal warfare in Mexico.

EXPERTS ARE CHOSEN TO ASSIST U. S. NAVY

Leaders of All Applied Sciences Will Aid Thomas Edison.

WASHINGTON, D. C. — Secretary of the Navy Daniels has announced the names of the twenty-two scientists and inventors who, with Thomas A. Edison, the chairman, are to constitute an advisory board to assist the United States navy in its technical problems of development.

The members of the board were chosen by eleven scientific societies, each of which nominated two men. Each of them was chosen for the inventions he had made or the leadership he held in his particular science. Mr. Edison was chosen by Secretary Daniels for the chairmanship of the board, the plan resulting in the creation of the body having been taken up first with Mr. Edison as the foremost inventor of this country.

Dr. Daniels announced that he had arranged for the first meeting of the advisory board to take place in his office at 11 o'clock on Wednesday, Oct. 6. At this meeting it is expected that the organization of the board will be effected and plans for the conduct of its work discussed. It is thought probable that the first organization will take the form of a division of the board into committees, to which will be assigned problems in particular fields of the navy's work, to which members will be assigned in accordance with their special fitness.

VON PAPEN WILL GO TO NEW POST

U. S. to Find Easy Way to Be Rid of Him.

WASHINGTON, D. C. — The departure from the United States of Captain Franz Von Papen, military attaché of the German embassy, will probably be arranged for here in a few days. This is now indicated here.

The situation involving Captain Von Papen in the matter which brought about the request for the recall of Dr. Dumba, the Austro-Hungarian ambassador, is recognized as most delicate. Nevertheless the attitude of this government is that Captain Von Papen has at the very least been guilty of an impropriety in attempting to transmit official reports to the government by using an American dispatch bearer and that he has furthered this impropriety by his conduct in the matter of the recall of Dr. Dumba.

On the other hand, the American government is inclined to accept the unofficial reports from Europe indicating that the Vienna government will promptly accede to the request of the United States and will issue his recall at once. The incident is now regarded as practically ended so far as Ambassador Dumba personally is concerned.

CRISIS LOOMING IN SHIP DISPUTE

Von Bernstorff Has First Meeting with Lansing.

WIDE APART IN CONTROVERSY

Subject of Arbitration Brought Up—U. S. Will Not Arbitrate Subject of International Law—Insists on Principle of Reparation—Facts Alone Subjects for Hague.

WASHINGTON, D. C. — The American government is not yet willing to discuss with Germany the question of arbitration in connection with the sinking of the Arabic. It was stated by a high government official that "the question of arbitration is not an issue." It was explained authoritatively that what the American government first wants is a disavowal of the attack on the Arabic. Afterward it was indicated the American government may be willing to arbitrate the question of indemnity.

WASHINGTON, D. C. — The first of a series of important conferences between Count Bernstorff, the German ambassador, and Secretary of State Lansing took place at the state department. The purpose of the conferences is to reach an amicable and definite understanding on the pending issues between the two governments.

The German ambassador has been given authority by his government to take up every point with Secretary Lansing. Each step will be submitted to Berlin for approval. On his part, Secretary Lansing will be in constant touch with the president.

Demands of United States. From the best obtainable information, Secretary Lansing appears to have told the ambassador:

First—That Germany and the United States must come to a distinct understanding on the German acquiescence to the American demands that the principles of international law apply to submarine warfare.

Second—That the United States should know the nature and extent of the orders of the German admiralty to its submarines.

Third—That the United States will consider whether exceptional cases are arbitrable.

Fourth—That President Wilson insists that the questions arising out of the sinking of the Arabic shall be settled before the Lusitania case or any other case is taken up.

The third point has a most important bearing on the question whether the United States will consent to Germany's proposal that her liability for indemnity in the Arabic case be submitted to arbitration. So far as can be learned, the secretary gave no assurance to the ambassador that this government would accept the suggestion of arbitration.

One official said that, in view of the all-inclusive scope of the diplomatic interchange begun, the question of arbitration would become secondary. The impression exists everywhere, nevertheless, that this government will ultimately agree to arbitrate questions of fact in cases which do not involve any contravention of the principles insisted on by the president.

Stand of Germany. The statement made by the German ambassador to Secretary Lansing was in general as follows:

First—Germany agrees to the contention of the United States that no passenger vessel shall be torpedoed without warning and without opportunity for the passengers to take to the boats unless it attempts to escape or resist.

Second—Germany denies, however, the contention of the United States that an American citizen has the undisputed right to travel on a merchant vessel of belligerent nationality.

Crisis Looms Anew, Says Wilson. WASHINGTON, D. C. — President Wilson told a delegation of visitors from Manassas, Va., that the seriousness of the international situation makes it impossible for him to consider any speaking dates.

"We are all hoping and praying that the skies may clear," he said, "but we have no control over them on this side of the ocean, and it is impossible to predict any possible course of affairs."

"I feel that it is impossible to make promises of the kind which you wish of me. My experience every day by day is that questions come up so suddenly and have to be solved so promptly, and sometimes with so much thoughtful discretion that I really dare not let my thoughts go to other matters."

A GENERAL SURVEY OF THE WAR.

Thursday, Sept. 9.—A decisive victory in the fighting before Tarnopol and the capture of 8,200 Germans was chronicled by the Russian war office as the czar took command of the Russian army. East of Grodno, in the region of Skidel, the Russians claim a repulse for the Germans with heavy losses.

Of the Tarnopol engagement Berlin says the enemy was repulsed by a counter attack. The occupation of Wolkowysk, east of Grodno, was marked by the capture of 2,500 men and four machine guns. On the Dvina front a new German assault has developed at Daudewad, and progress is claimed.

The reports of cannonading on the western front are varied by the account of a German attack in the Argonne, following a bombardment in which asphyxiating bombs were largely used. The French trenches were entered at several points.

A Mitylene dispatch says the allies have gained a new success in the Suvla sector of Gallipoli. No details are given.

Friday, Sept. 10.—The situation on the Russian front shows its only significant change in the reported occupation of Dubno by Austrian troops. Its capture increases the peril to the Russian lines of communication with Kiev, 200 miles to the east, and Odessa, 300 miles to the south.

The crown prince has made another desperate effort to pierce the French line in the Argonne. An advance on a front of a mile and a quarter for a depth varying from 300 to 500 yards is claimed by Berlin. Paris admits a German success, but says it was only partial.

There are evidences of preparation for a gigantic effort on the part of the allies in the Dardanelles. A great concentration of troops, heavy artillery and warships is said to be proceeding, and many mine sweepers have renewed the work of gathering up mines at the entrance to the straits.

Saturday, Sept. 11.—Berlin claims the capture of an advanced French trench west of Souchez and of trenches in the Vosges, at Schratzenlele and Hartsmannswellerkopf. In the latter sector Paris reports a violent artillery action on the part of the Germans was "completely repulsed."

General von Hindenburg makes no progress with his offensive on the Dvina front. Fighting continues farther south, near Skidel, without decision. Berlin claims the successful storming of certain heights in this region. General von Mackensen is pressing slowly forward along the railroad line from Brest Litovsk to Pinsk, due east, and has covered about two-thirds of the distance.

On the Italian front Vienna reports the repulse of several violent attacks on the bridgehead at Tolmino, in the upper Isonzo region.

Sunday, Sept. 12.—For the first time since the great Austro-German machine began rolling the Russians out of Galicia several months ago the enemy is now offering stubborn resistance all along the line. Official dispatches from every quarter of the eastern front report "fierce fighting." The German war office today commented upon the strength of the Russian counter attacks at several sectors of the long battle front.

Russia reported the third victory over her foes in Galicia and on the Bessarabian frontier. It is claimed that 3,000 prisoners were captured.

For thirteen days, Belgian, British and French artillery has thrown a steady rain of shells from guns of all calibers on the German trenches from the Swiss frontier to the sea. Paris announces that the French checked two surprise attacks during the day near Saptigneul and that a bomb and grenade struggle continues in the Argonne.

SAYS BIG PACKERS HOLD CHEESE DOWN

Combination Held Responsible for Low Price; Big Demand.

SHEBOYGAN, WIS. — The cheese market went up from 1/4 to 3/4 of a cent last week, with prospects of a continued increase. Cheese on the Sheboygan dairy board last week averaged about 14 cents, a pound, which is a good price for this time of the year, although it was about 1 cent higher a year ago.

The condition of the cheese market is peculiar. The demand is bigger than the supply, despite the fact that the conditions this summer, with the best pastures in years, have made it possible to produce more and better cheese than ever before. When asked to explain how it came that the supply was less than the demand, and still the price is held down, a leading cheese dealer declared that the big packers absolutely controlled the market.

"Why I know it to be a positive fact, that the big packers have actually given cheese away to some of those that do not have contracts, in order to hold down the price. I have been in the business a good many years, and am pretty well conversed with the situation," he said. "It is actually funny to hear the excuses that have been offered recently for holding the prices down, when it was impossible to secure all the cheese that is ordered."

STORY BRINGS HIM $30 FINE

Hunter Boasts All Winter of Shooting Buck and Now "Pays Up."

LA CROSSE, WIS. — Last November, Claude Ralph, wealthy Eau Claire county farmer, went with two friends to Sawyer county in pursuit of deer. He brought home a big six horned buck, and also a story of the chase, bigger than the deer. Ten months after the slaying of the deer, E. W. Gautsch of La Crosse and A. I. Hulbert of Barron, conservation agents, dropped into the Ralph home.

"That's a beautiful buck head you have there, isn't it?" remarked Gautsch. "You can bet it is," said Ralph, "and this is how I got it." And he proceeded with a graphic account of the kill. "Strange," said Gautsch, when the story was finished, "that doesn't agree with the account given us by the Indian who shot that deer at Winter and sold it to you for $7. We found him at Winter and he told us all about it." The marksman was so surprised he confessed on the spot. A few hours later he appeared before the County court and pleaded guilty to having game in his possession after being purchased. He stripped $30 from a fat roll of bills and departed.

CLUBS GIRL; SHOTS SELF

Farm Hand's Love Unrequited, Cause; Victim's Recovery Expected.

GLENWOOD, WIS. — William W. Juncman, a Hollander about twenty-five years old, employed on the farm of J. P. Hanson, four miles west of here, struck Ella, twenty year old daughter of Mr. Hanson, on the head with an eight pound setting maul, while she was milking. He then went to the house and took a shot gun with which he blew a hole through his left chest, just missing the heart.

The girl will recover although the wound is severe. Juncman is still alive, but physicians do not expect his recovery. Temporary insanity over unrequited love has caused the act. The sheriff and district attorney came from Hudson and placed Juncman under arrest, but it is not thought he will live to face trial.

BEAR TIES UP LUMBER CAMP

Bruin Eats the Food and Hungry Men Refuse to Work.

RHINELANDER, WIS. — When a bear visited a road camp of a lumber company and ate up or destroyed all the provisions work was stopped for several hours, because the men refused to work without something to eat. The teams of the company were being used on a new road under construction between here and Three Lakes, and as the camp was more than a mile from the place where the men were working they took their meals in a large basket.

Bruin smelled the good things and what he didn't eat he scattered over the ground.

Gets Many Sheep to Fatten.

SUPERIOR, WIS. — A large shipment of 1,500 Montana sheep passed through Superior in the vanguard of many thousand head of mutton to be fattened in this territory for market this fall. Western growers, at the instance of H. A. To Float Big Bond Issue.

JANESVILLE, WIS. — A million dollar bond issue, authorized several months ago by the Wisconsin railroad commission, is being undertaken by the Janesville Electric company. A portion of the floatation will be used to clear off present indebtedness with the remainder to be held in reserve for further extensions. John G. Rexford and W. S. Jeffris hold the trust deed.

His force of assistants will consist of engineers who have been working for the state railroad commission, state tax commission and state highway commission.

Gets Two Headed Rattler.

GENOA, WIS. — When Frank Alexander, famous as a reptile hunter in these parts, returned from his last hunt with a two headed rattlesnake, Genoa proceeded to mount the "water wagon" with haste. "I've caught 320 snakes in my time," says Alexander, a hunter of the old time school, "but this one has 'em all beat."

EAU CLAIRE, WIS. — The strike of union carpenters at Eau Claire is over.
